A little bit about Milo...

Milo came to the centre as his previous owner could not manage him, he is a super friendly chap but can be a little boisterous when he gets over excited. He has not had much basic training before he came to the centre but he is clever and eager to learn. He would be best suited to adopters who are keen to train and help him reach his full potential. Milo is not used to being left on his own so he will need adopters who are at home most of the time until he has settled and understands that it is ok to be on your own sometimes. Milo is an extremely active dog and will need a family who will take him on long, exciting adventures. He is a happy boy who lives life to the max, he is always looking for new things to investigate. He really will make a super addition to the family. He is sociable with other dogs and could live with a dog who can meet his activity levels. He can live with children aged 13 years and over.

My personality...

You'll need to take me to training classes

I need teaching that it's ok to be alone

I could live with children of secondary school age

I'm always on the go

I may be able to live with another dog

I love food and treats
